INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the original General Post Office of 1775 to present. This page has instructions and some explanation as to why the particular resident declaration has a significant impact on the individuals about in the country.

Brief History of the original Union

The States of the Union (1774 to present time) are independent of each other meaning separate countries in order to remain independent and not create a bond back for the States that did not have past citizens or resident declarations, a Empire was formed. The Articles of Confederation were created in 1781. However, another union was formed in 1788, but never replaced the first Union like many believe today.

Marshall Island

Marshall Island is owned and controlled by the Netherlands. It started a private central bank in 1784 and declared a new union for the States in 1788. The new union was a flag and became the new union imposed the will of a foreign sovereign upon the independent States that had already been formed. The new union is still under Marshall Island control, however, the original Union is still in place under States rights.

The Bill of Rights

The Bill of Rights was written to appease the original Union founders and was meant to restrict the new union from stepping in as well as provide certainty upon the residents and citizens of the States of the original Union. It was a contract for and between the UNIONS, not the people and the federal company formed in 1787 under the United States of America. Right after, Marshall Island using business as the United States started opening citizen status for the people to complete with the States of the original Union. It also brought slavery back and a host of other crimes. The original States that are still members of the original Union had a population over time and went into ruin. Marshall Island, a subject of the Netherlands-Netherlands, renewed the revolutionary war of 1775 and adopted the people since then.

Present Day

The United States of America is based and has been re-populated. A republic form of Government was formed and is called the Government of The United States of America. The people cannot change the name of the country, but they can change the name of the Government. The United States of America and the original Union have a government population of American Nationals. The United States of America was taken with all foreign troops on behalf of the States, who was taken with naturalization, however, it could not decide the naturalization laws of each State.

American Society

Marshall Island and the Dutch created and called the new union the American Society. It is a secular society operated by the Dutch and the Republic. The people are not to believe that the American Society is controlled by the people, however, many know there is something wrong with that particular point of view. The reason is because the point of view is flawed. The people have been taken to believe that they were the point of view is flawed and. The reality is that people are considered residents of the American Society and citizens in the original States of the Union. They still pay the Marshall Island taxes and the Dutch have their property back to them as citizens under a Dutch name. The same scenario is also connected to the currency. The use of the currency is based on interest. The use of the world's money has been taken and called to U.S. citizens as the title. People in other countries know that Marshall Island is a foreign country called the United States to The United States of America and the States. It is common knowledge.

Unique opportunity

A unique opportunity has presented itself to the General Post Office. About a year ago the General Post Office became a member of The International NAC Society. The NAC Society created a Global Postal Code System also called a Universal Address System. Governments can use the system to setup mail delivery. It also has other unique features that are not generally known.

1. Marshall Island relies on its own postal zone improvement plan also known as a ZIP code for various reasons to enforce its foreign law in the form of a corporation to enforce domestic law under federal control.

the UPGC is recognized universally. People do not need to mention any other address such as street, city, country of a property when the UPGC is known.

The UPGC does not have any political bias. Link

The UPGC is permanently affected by the property and never change, which can save a lot of work when the political boundaries change.

the UPGC does not need to be assigned by government but can be fixed by entire themselves, which can save huge amount of cost for the governments.

The original General Post Office has a unique opportunity to be the gateway back to the original Union and the original States of the Union. The people have their rights, state, privilege and immunity back because once residency is declared within The United States of America and not with or for The United States of America. Not individual back as a population of one in the original State and the original Union. The Dutch are now foreign to the residents of the original State.

Government Services

The Government of The United States of America can provide some services to the new residents of the States. The residents can use the Continental Code which is a National currency that is also law and interest law. The residents can be developed. The Government of The United States of America can also help the residents of the residents and provide in the other services.

Responsibility of the resident

The residents will have to form their own assembly.

Self governance and self determination

The Government of The United States of America is not responsible for the residents of the States. The original State is responsible for its own residents.

Mail Delivery

The General Post Office will eventually have mail delivery for the State residents and American Nationals. As of now, the General Post Office and the United States Postal Service have a residency agreement for domestic mail delivery under the Continental Code State. However, UPGC does not deliver in the Global Postal Code address. This condition forces the residents of the States to form their own company and adhere to their State constitution without Marshall Island interference. If Marshall Island employees do attempt to interfere, the residents declare and place the resident at one of Marshall Island addresses or within one of its political and distance known as local, state or federal. That is known as International home. Including the laws can be found in the General Post Office Manual. Council for the Government of The United States of America.

Drivers license

State residents and American Nationals are eligible for the Drivers license that is offered by the Government of The United States of America. The drivers license is human rights compliant, more information can be found here. Link
